KFUEIT - A Journey from 2019 to 2023

We are living in a globalized world. No doubt, it is challenging to align higher education with the changing socio-economic conditions of the country. It is the need of the hour to equip the youth with valuable skills which are compatible with the market and industry. It is necessary for universities in Pakistan to do out-of-box thinking to meet modern challenges. In Pakistan, the role of universities is changing day by day. Now, universities are not just higher education institutions. It is one of the core responsibilities of the university to develop a research-friendly environment to properly address the agriculture, industry and social problems of the vicinity. Universities must develop good linkages with the industry and community. It is difficult to turn youth into success stories without the development of a vibrant educational, research-oriented, innovative and healthy environment in universities. New universities in the country have the potential to develop such a vibrant structure to meet the modern challenges in higher education. Khwaja Fareed University of Engineering and Information Technology, located in extreme south Punjab, is a hope to change the socio-economic condition of the region.
